

Martin Luther King Jr Day

"I have a dream where everyone, no matter their skin colour, is treated the same and with kindness. Where children of all colours play together and be friends.

I believe that one day, people would live together peacefully and happily, and that no one would be judged because of how they look.

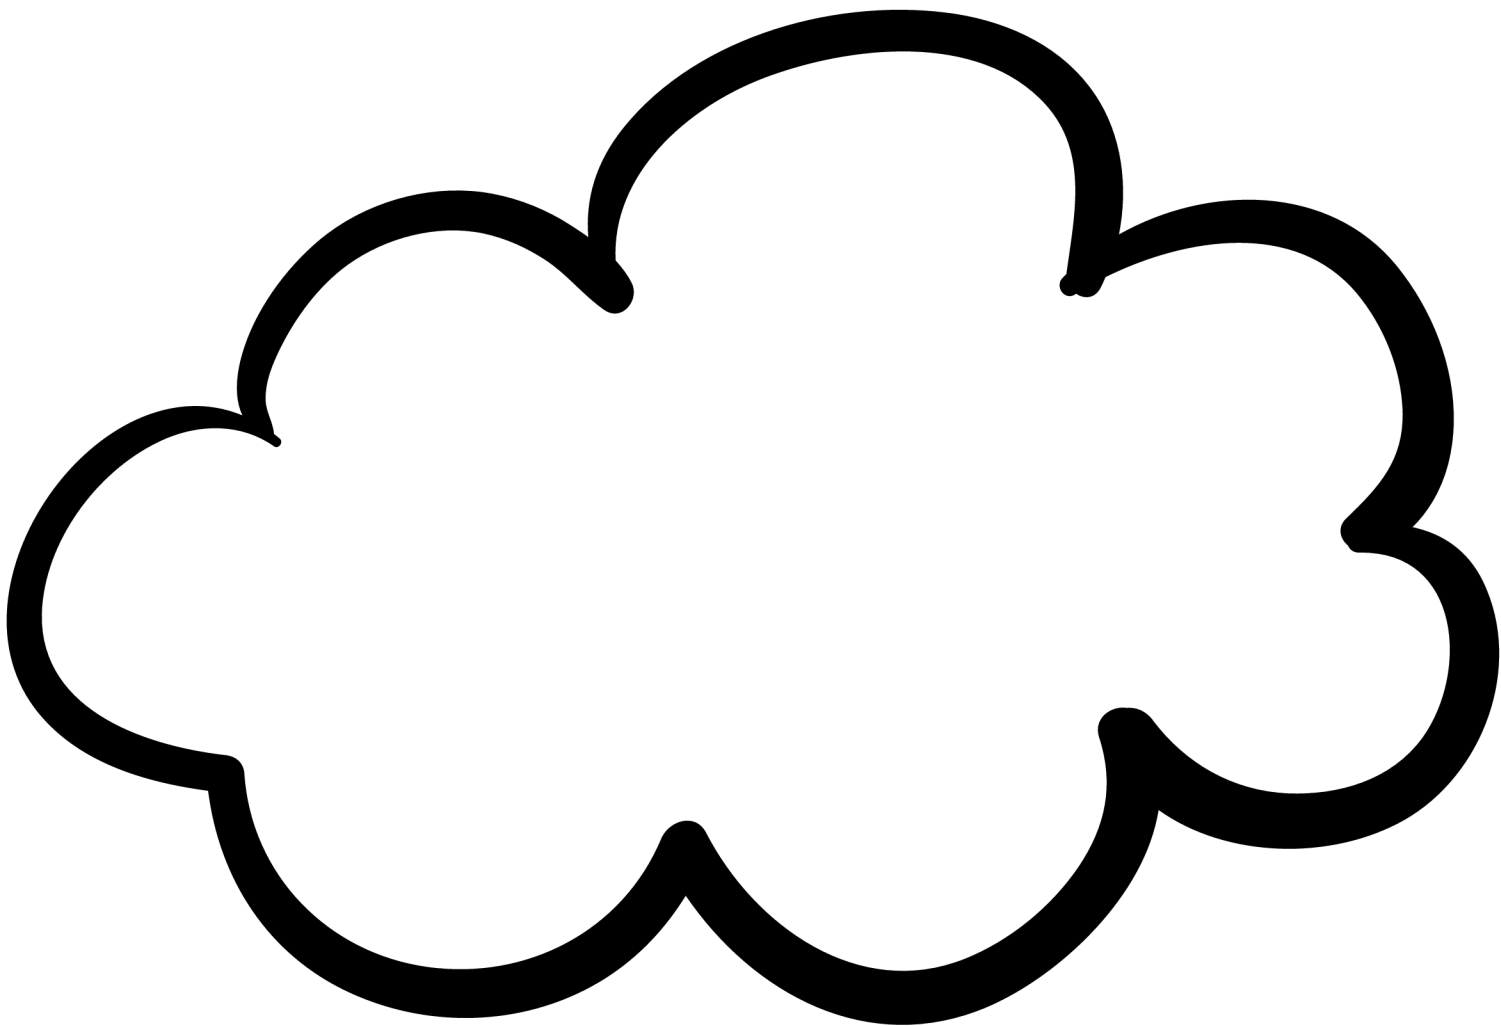

I want a world where everyone is treated fairly and with love."

-Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

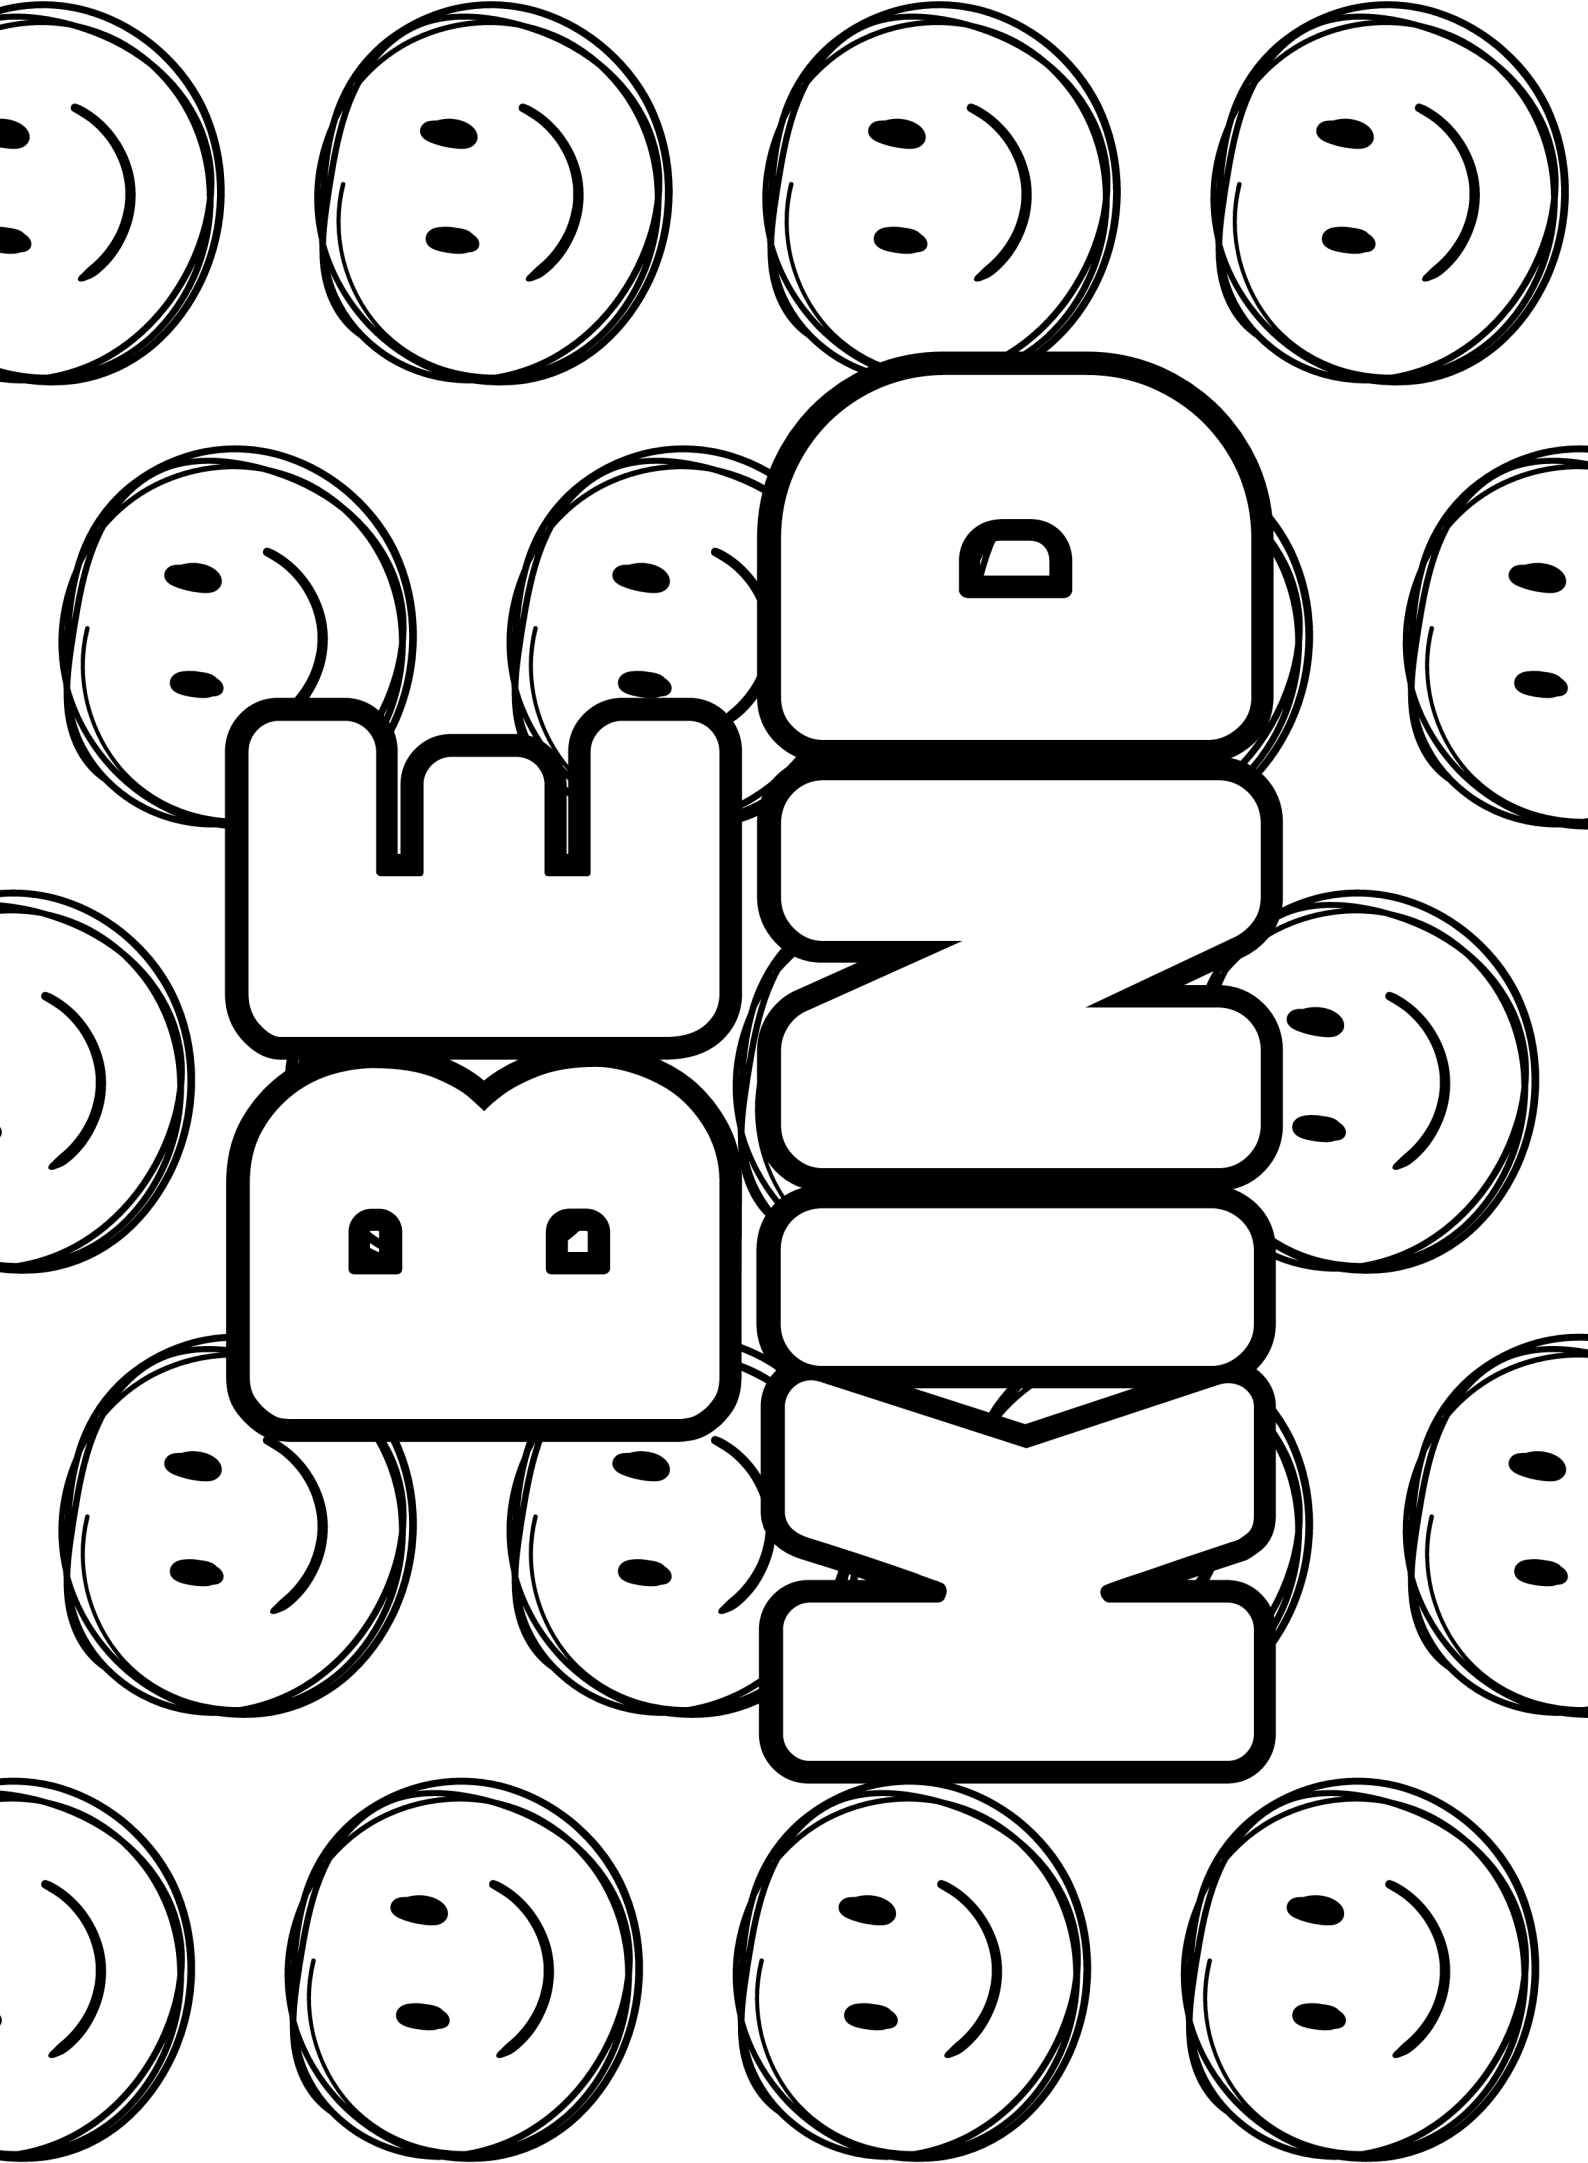

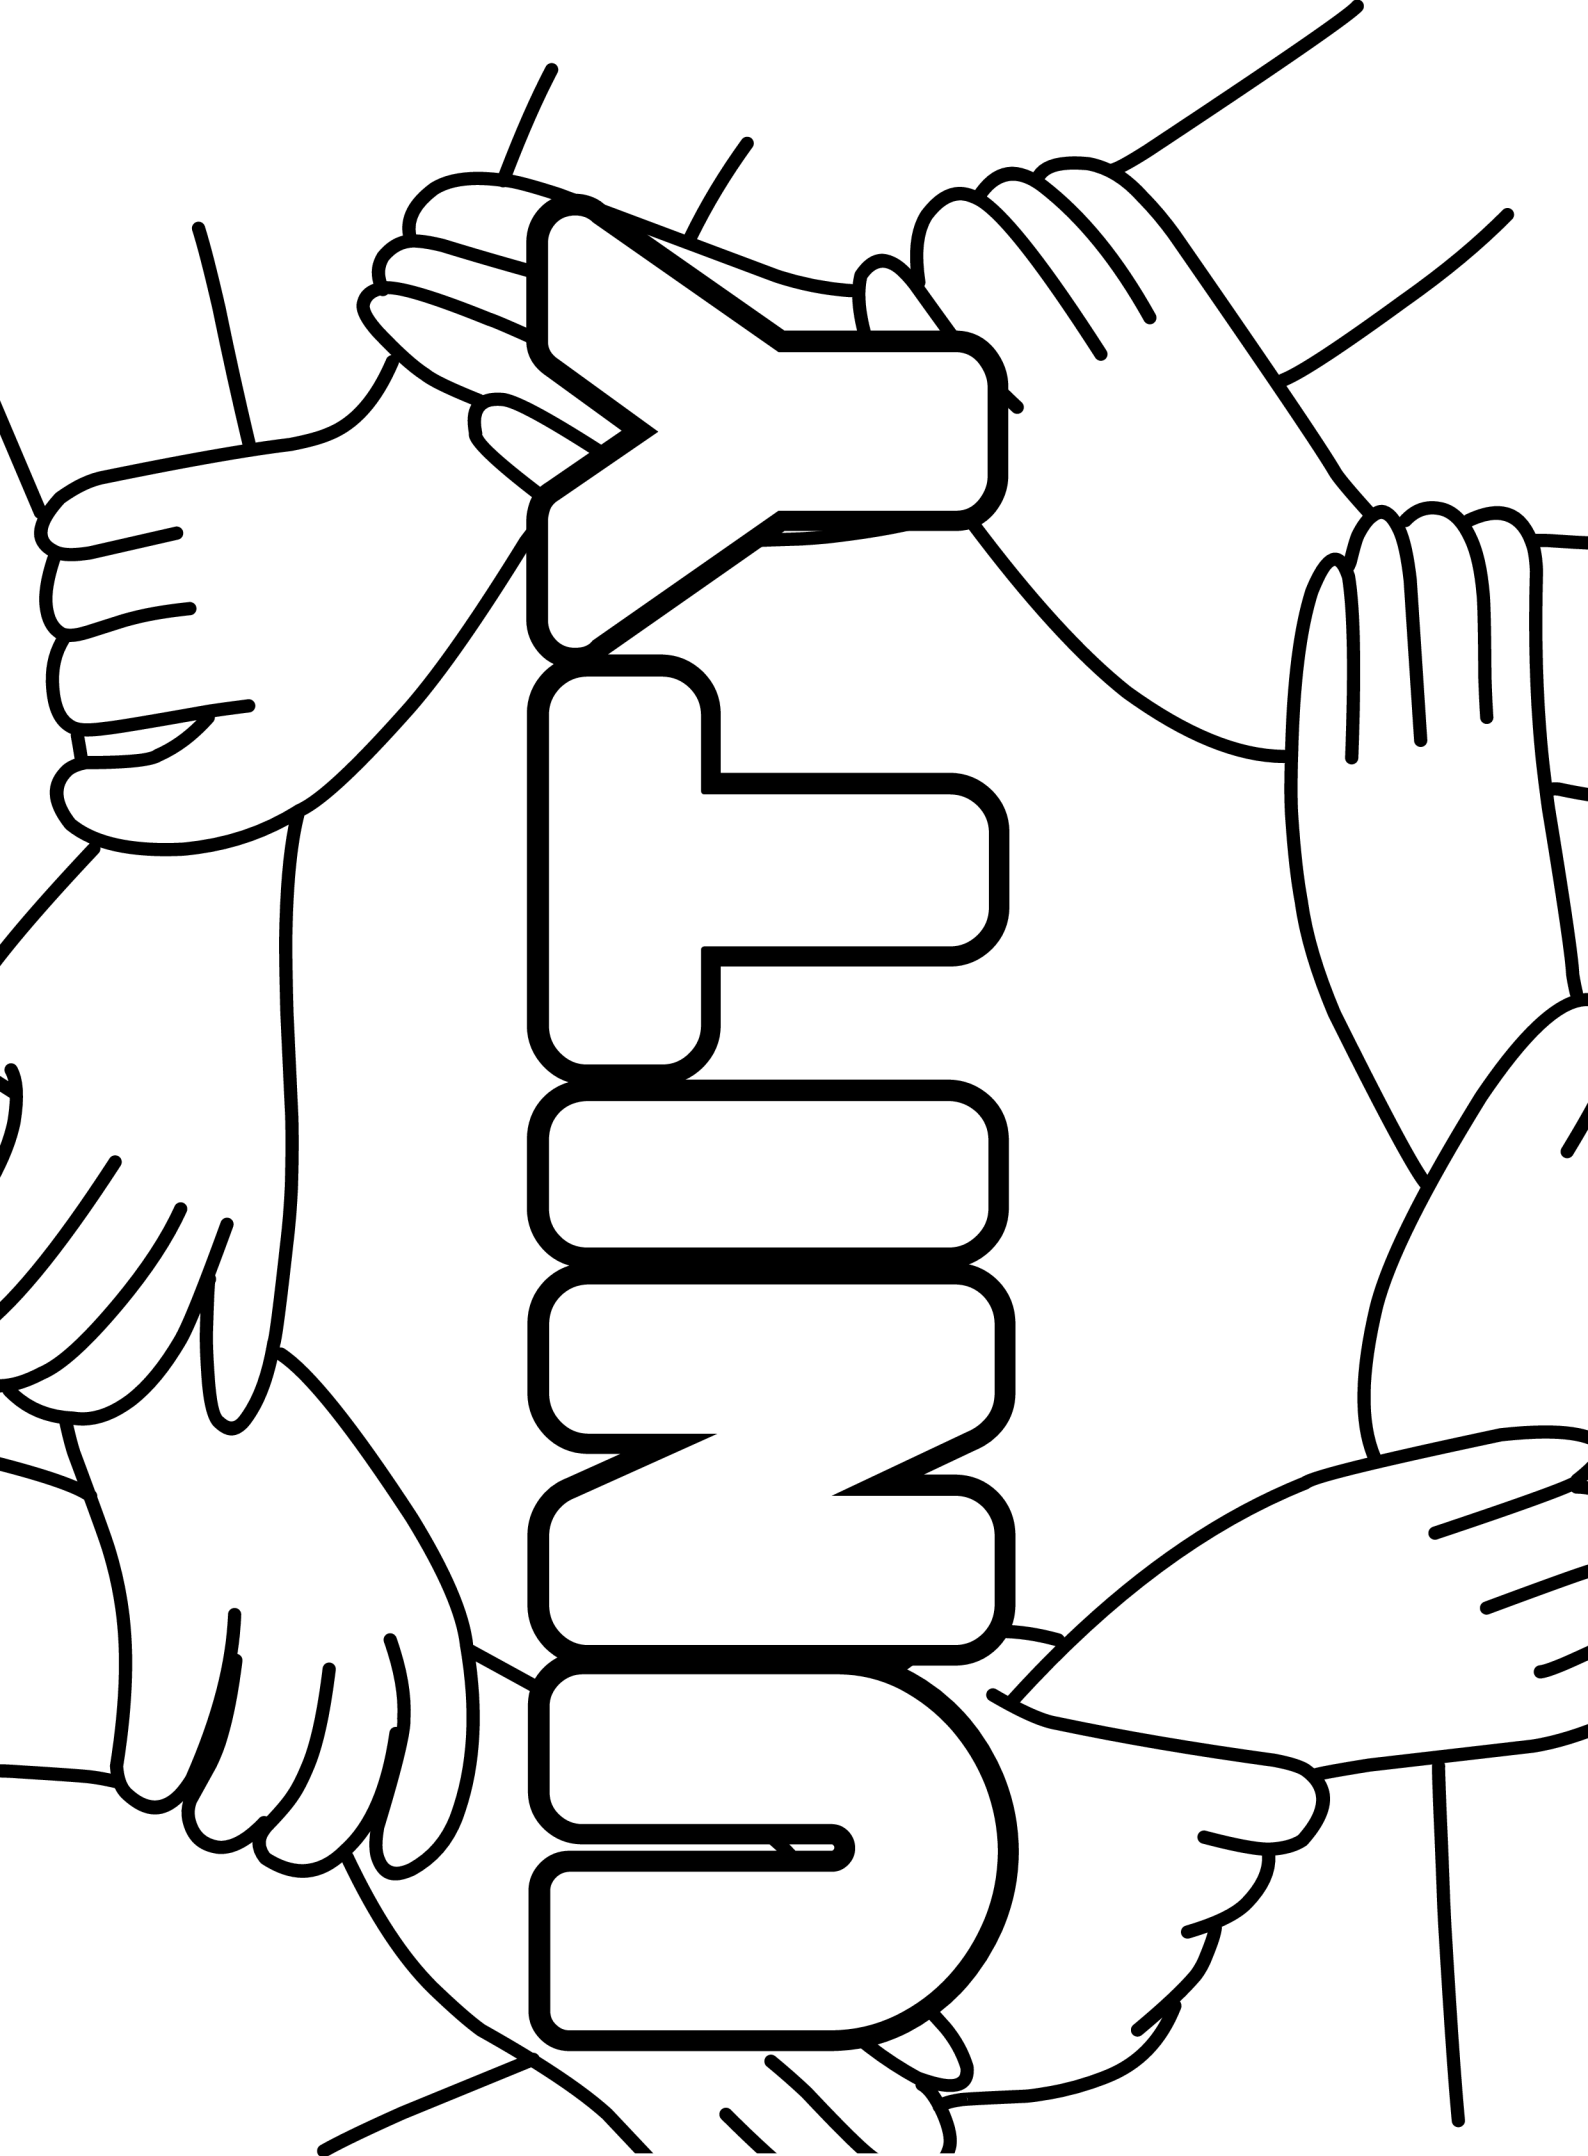

What is your dream for the future?

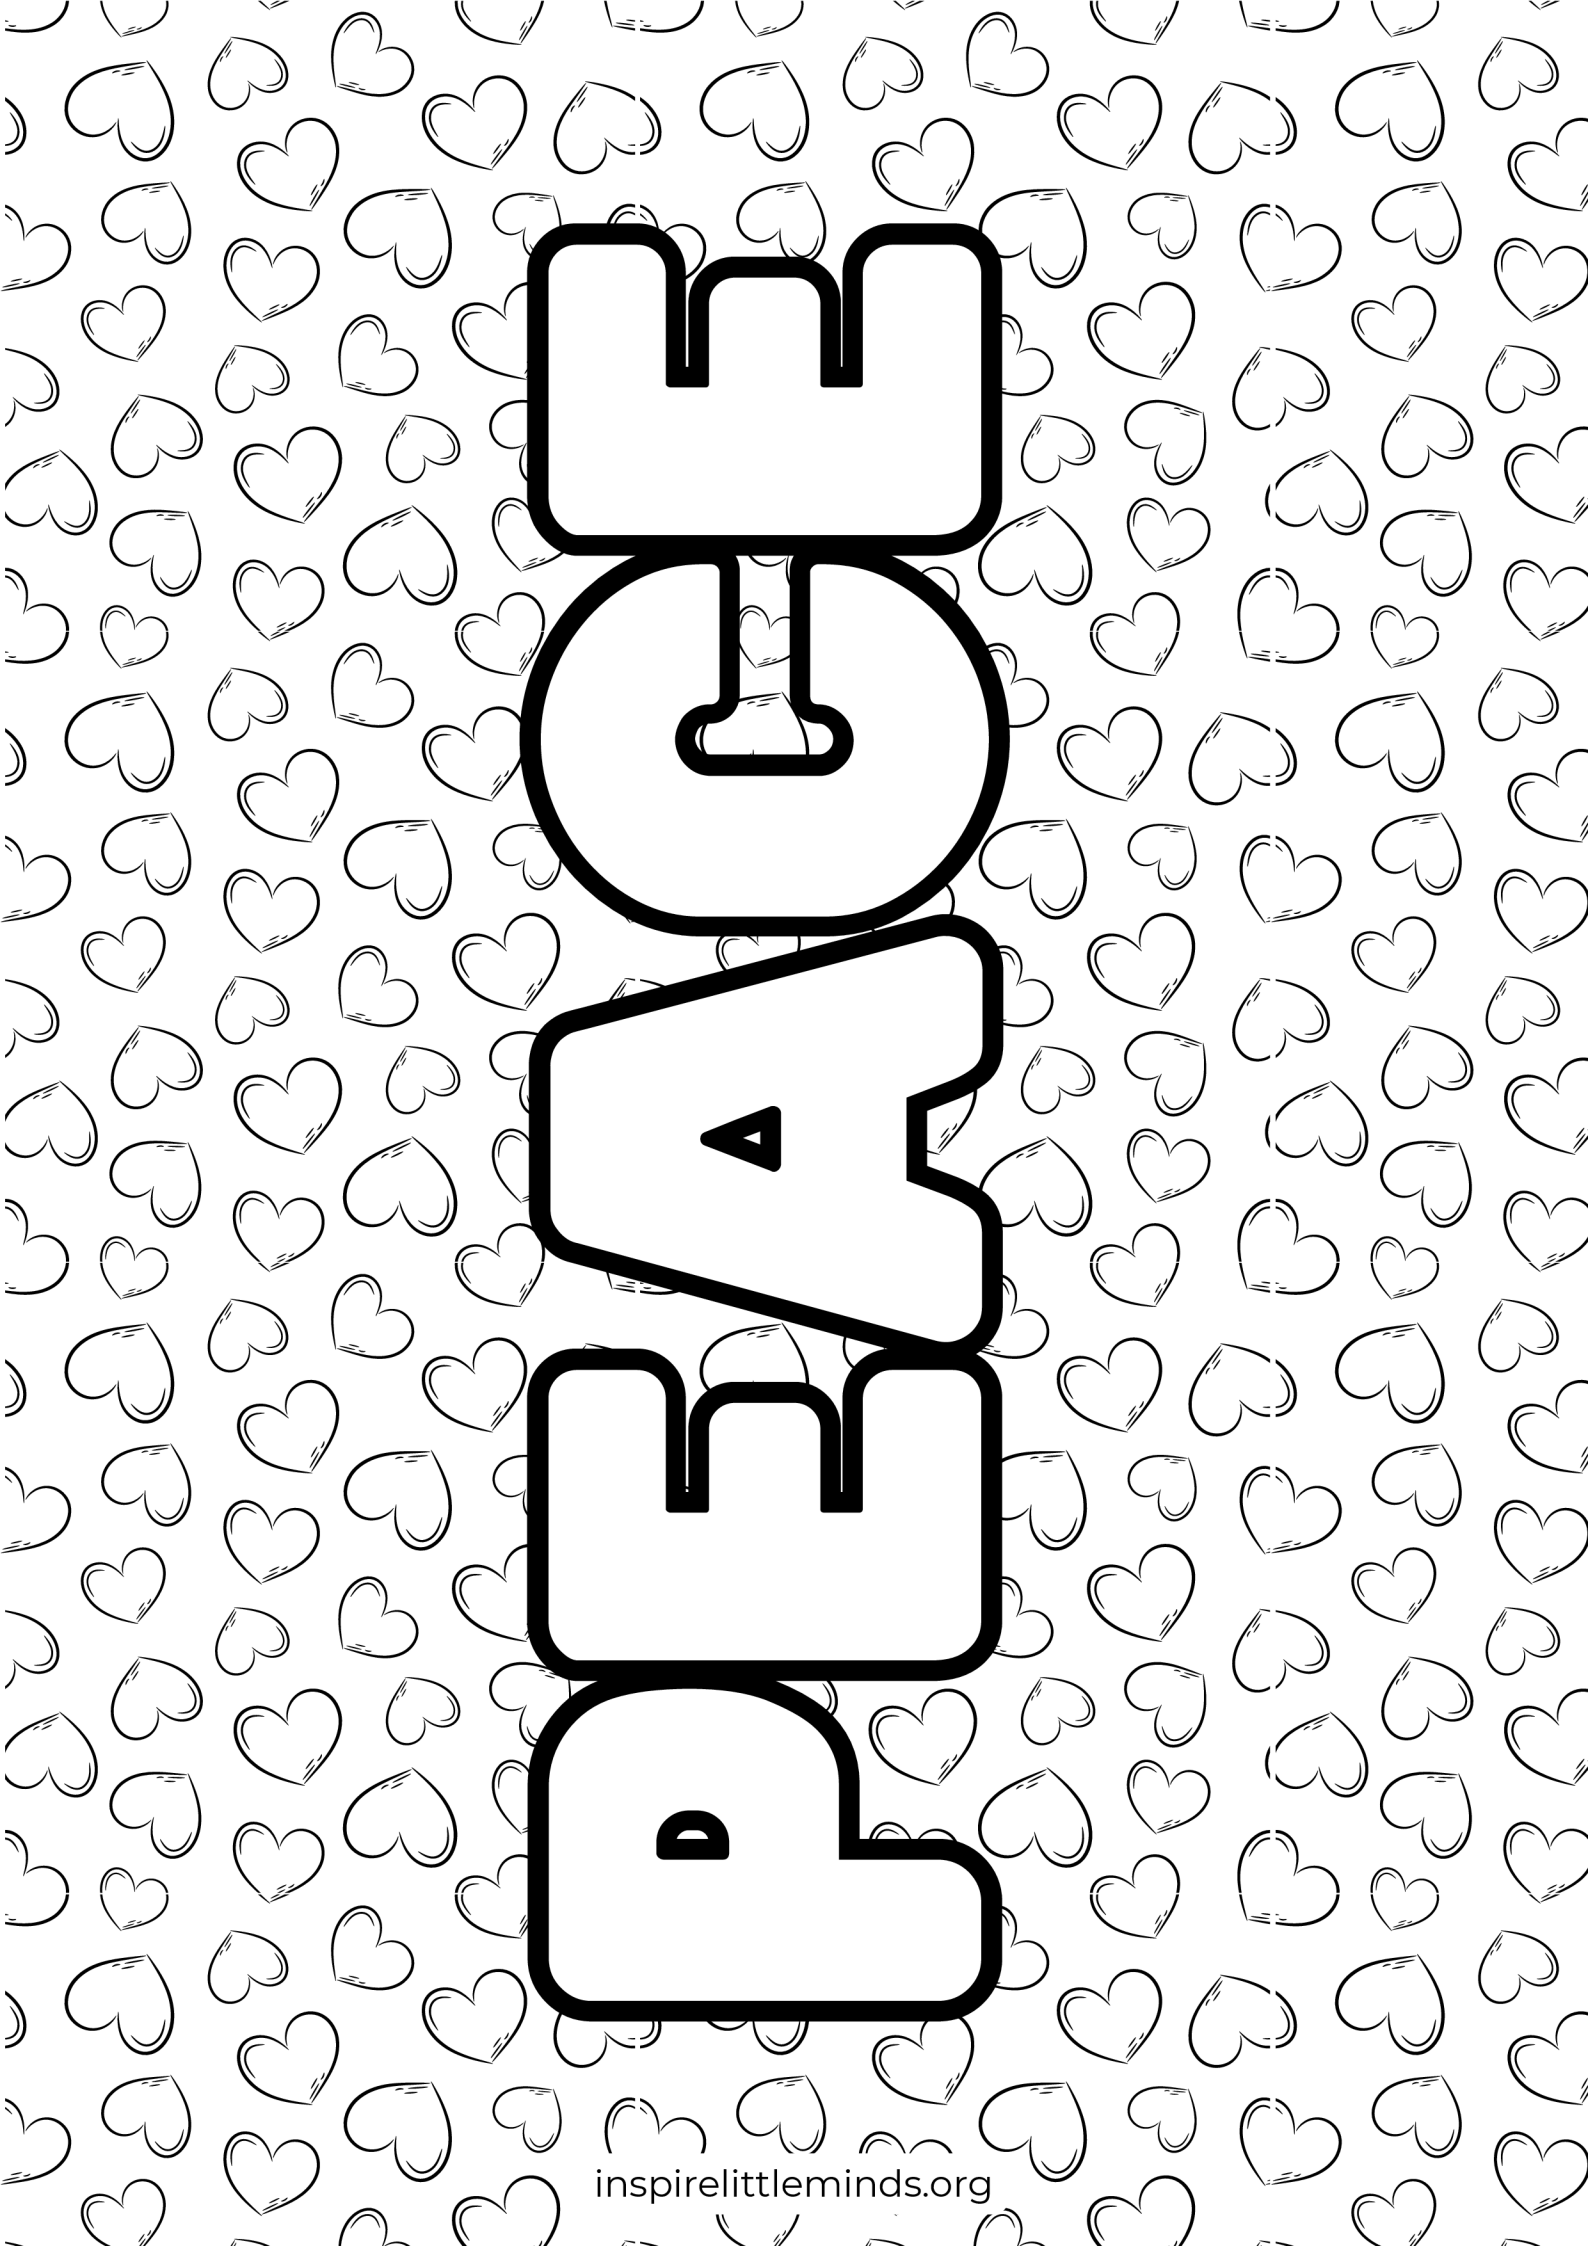

Fill in your dream or cut and paste the ones below

| | | | |
|-------------------------------------|---------------------------------|-------------------------------|---------------------------------------|
| people are happy | people are treated fairly | children all play together | there is world peace |
| there is love for one another | people help each other | there is freedom | race is celebrated and welcomed |

LOVE